EVENT REPORT

'It is my nature to be kind, gentle and humane. But remember, when it comes to matters of protecting my country and my people, Fear me, for I am also most deadliest one, who is powerful and relentless'.

G.D. Goenka Public School, Sarita Vihar, celebrated the Army Day with great fervor and pride. On January 15, 2020, G.D. Goenka Public School, Sarita Vihar, celebrated the 72nd Indian Army Day. Army Day marks a day to salute the valiant soldiers who sacrificed their lives to protect the country and its citizens and the brave Indian soldiers who are always ready to fight at the Nation's borders. Not only the borders they come forth to help the citizens during any kind of emergencies and natural disasters.

To experience the rigorous lives of the soldiers the Goenkans of class Nursery to II participated in physical exercises like hurdle races, hopping and galloping to keep body and mind fit. As part of the craft of the day the students of Nursery and Kindergarten created sunshades with the symbolic camouflage colours while students of I and II made paper planes. The day ended with a respectful salute to the brave protectors and nurturers of the nation- The Indian Army.
