

Report: Inter-House English Handwriting Competition

Classes: III-V

Date: May 15, 2026

Day: Friday

An Inter-House English Handwriting Competition was conducted with great enthusiasm at G.D. Goenka Public School for students of Classes III to V. The competition aimed to encourage students to develop neat handwriting, proper letter formation, presentation skills, and patience in written work.

Students from all four houses participated actively and showcased their handwriting skills with great dedication and confidence. It was a healthy competition and motivated students to improve their writing habits and presentation.

The participants displayed excellent penmanship, neatness, spacing, alignment, and creativity in their written work. The judges carefully evaluated the entries on the basis of clarity, uniformity, neat presentation, spelling accuracy, and overall appearance.

The event witnessed enthusiastic participation from students, who put forth their best efforts to make their work presentable and impressive. The competition not only enhanced students' handwriting skills but also helped them understand the importance of discipline and neatness in written expression.

The Inter-House English Handwriting Competition concluded successfully and was appreciated by teachers and students alike. Such activities continue to inspire young learners to develop confidence, creativity, and excellence in their handwriting skills where the importance of writing is slowly fading out in this digital era.
