Story Telling Report

Storytelling is the oldest form of Education and is the easiest way to touch the right chords of a child's heart. Keeping in mind this philosophy, G D Goenka Public School, Sarita Vihar, organized a story telling session for students of classes Nursery –II.

The session was conducted by Scholastic, India and the resource person Mrs. Neelam Narang, beautifully presented the core idea behind her stories using props and dramatization. The children were extremely excited and completely engrossed while listening to the stories and awaiting the climax.

The stories had appropriate morals which would help the little ones become worthy citizens of the future. The session also aimed at helping the students to improve their listening skills and enhancing their existing vocabulary.
